I. Introduction

The Indemnities and Allowances Commission was established by legislation in 1994 as an independent body with the authority to review and assess remuneration provided to Members of the Legislative Assembly, and to present binding decisions on same to the Legislative Assembly. Prior to 1994, Commissions were established by motion in the Legislative Assembly and their reports were recommendations only. Despite this, the purpose of the Commissions has remained the same, as stated in Report of the Commission Established to Examine and Recommend on Remuneration for Members of the Legislative Assembly in 1980 (Commissioners Nicholson, Stewart, Monkley, and O'Brien):

The remuneration to Members must in some way compensate those who are willing to assume the burden of elective office...Fair and reasonable annual salaries must be paid to Members so that they will be free to devote the necessary time and attention to their work...We must see to it that no one is dissuaded from seeking public office because of financial risk or certain financial reversal. (pg.31)

The Commission is responsible for establishing employment benefits for the role of Member of the Legislative Assembly (MLA), to provide reasonable remuneration for the scope of work required, and to ensure it is accessible without financial hardship for anyone who chooses to run. The range of remuneration under the Commission's authority is listed in the Legislative Assembly Act and is defined by the Indemnities and Allowances Commission as follows:

- indemnities: the gross base salary paid to all Members of the Legislative Assembly to carry out the responsibilities of public office
- salaries: payments for positions of additional responsibility in executive or legislative roles (added to the indemnity)
- allowances: monies available on a claim basis for expenses incurred while carrying out the duties of a Member of the Legislative Assembly (ie. mileage, home internet service, meal allowance, etc.)
- benefits: access to employer-sponsored health care insurance and life insurance, and to transition allowance
- pension: supplementary pension plan for Members of the Legislative Assembly

Today, the Indemnities and Allowances Commission's authority arises from Sections 53 and 54 of the Legislative Assembly Act RSPEI 1988, Cap. L-7.1. In summary, it establishes an independent Commission to review the remuneration paid to the Members of the Legislative Assembly and to deliver a binding report to the Speaker.

II. Commissioners

Following the provincial general election in 2019, the Honourable Colin LaVie, Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, appointed Ron Profit, Q.C.; Sharon O'Halloran, C.P.A., C.G.A.; and Dennis Carver, C.P.A., C.A., as Commissioners to the Indemnities and Allowances Commission.

In 2021, Sharon O'Halloran resigned as Commissioner. Ms. O'Halloran contributed her expertise to the Indemnities and Allowances Commission for seven years and her professionalism and service to the Commission have been greatly appreciated.

Karen Fraser, C.P.H.R., was appointed to the Commission by the Honourable Colin LaVie in 2021. Ms. Fraser's extensive experience and professional understanding of human resource matters has been a welcome addition to the knowledge base of the Commission.

III. Indemnity & Salaries

Review of previous Commissions' reports

Part of the task of determining adequate compensation for any form of employment is studying the requirements of the position and looking at the economic environment in which it operates. The role of an MLA is complex and varied. Previous Commissions have included context around job duties and expectations as part of their deliberations on remuneration. The 1993 Commission's Report of the Commission of Enquiry (Commissioners O'Brien and Roche) summarized it as follows:

Many constituents...expect all kinds of things from the Member which include everything from finding a job and attending individual functions within the constituency, to listening to individual problems and concerns regardless of their nature. These items, along with the increasingly complex issues MLAs must confront in the process of becoming informed to participate in governmental matters, all require considerable time and effort. Members must prepare in advance to be able to debate issues in the legislature and become informed to make good decisions. It is also expected that the knowledge and understanding gained by MLAs be communicated to their constituents. (pg.4)

The uncertainty of the term of legislative office and the interruption in the career path in an individual's private life are regular considerations by past Commissions. Political life is freely chosen by those who participate, but it has long-term effects on private life and career development.

Income data

In conducting its review of MLA remuneration the Commission reviewed income, consumer and historical data. This places the remuneration in context with other jurisdictions and with the current economy.

Income of individuals, Canada and Atlantic provinces, 2019

	Average income ($)	PEI as a Percent (%) of Average	Median income ($)	PEI as a Percent (%) of Median

*An economic family refers to a group of two or more persons who live in the same dwelling and are related to each other by blood, marriage, common-law, adoption or a foster relationship.

The Commission notes that the income data above illustrates that the PEI average income for individuals and for families, while lower than the national numbers, compares favourably with the rest of the Atlantic provinces. Median income numbers for individuals and for families are better than those in each of the other Atlantic provinces.

Consumer Price Index (CPI) data

While PEI is in a relatively stable position regarding the success of collective public health measures, the ongoing economic effects of the pandemic are felt in the rising cost of living. The year-over-year All Items Consumer Price Index for October 2021 for PEI is 6.6%.

PEI and Canada Consumer Price Index

PE	CA	AB	BC	MB	NB	NL	NS	ON	QC	SK
6.6%	4.7%	4.3%	3.8%	4.7%	5.5%	4.5%	5.4%	4.9%	5.3%	3.2%

Statistics Canada reported that the year-over-year change in the All-Items Consumer Price Index for P.E.I. was 6.6 per cent in October 2021. This was the highest year-over-year increase among provinces. The monthly change for P.E.I. was 0.6 per cent. This compares to 4.7 per cent year-over-year and 0.7 per cent monthly increases for Canada. Leading contributors to year-over-year price increases for P.E.I. were gasoline (44.3%), followed by fuel oil and other fuels (83.6%), homeowners' replacement cost (17.0%), purchase and leasing of passenger vehicles (6.3%), and rent (7.6%). These increases were partially offset by year-over-year declines for telephone services (-11.2%), mortgage interest cost, video and audio subscription services (-16.7%), women's clothing (-5.8%), and fresh vegetables (-6.8%).

Though CPI is not the only metric the Commission considered in its deliberations, it is a reliable indication of the cost of living for the average consumer over time based on a set basket of items. It provides measured context in salary and contract negotiations by providing a metric for keeping compensation current with inflation so employees maintain economic security.

In addition to considering CPI increase for the past year (October to October), the Commission weighs CPI changes for ten years to account for market volatility in annual cost of living changes.

The indemnity paid to MLAs over the past ten years, including the adjustment received April 1 in each year, is outlined in the following chart:

Year (as of April 1)	Adjustment (%) to indemnity & salaries	Indemnity ($) as at April 1 of year noted
2012	0	65,344
2013	2 (Jan-Mar)	66,700
	1 (Apr-Mar)	67,400
2014	0.75	67,906
2015	1.2	68,721
2016	2	70,095
2017	2	71,497
2018	1.5	72,569
2019	1.0	73,295
2020	1.5	74,394
2021	0	74,394
Total annual changes (%)	12.95

In comparing changes to CPI and to the MLA indemnity over the same ten-year period, the Commission notes a disparity - the indemnity for PEI MLAs is 4.95% less than the cost-of-living increases.

Gross Domestic Product (GDP) for PEI

Serving as a Member of the Legislative Assembly, elected representatives are both economic consumers and, to a limited extent as legislative representatives, economic custodians who have some influence and responsibility for the creation of provincial laws. Gross domestic product (GDP) is a standard measure of the value added to the economy through the production of goods and services in a jurisdiction and is considered a measure of economic performance. While the economy is a free market model and not under the control of legislatures or governments, the laws and policies created function in that free market and can bring about change. Therefore, the Commission reviewed the 2020 Statistics Canada preliminary data on provincial gross domestic product (GDP) by income and expenditure, which indicated

Economic activity dropped in Canada in 2020, as the impact of the Covid-19 pandemic was widespread across the country and the rest of the world... The general downturn was somewhat mitigated by fewer imports and by increases in general government investments and investments in housing... The statistics show that the Prince Edward Island economy contracted by 1.7 per cent in chained 2012 dollars. This was the lowest decline among provinces, ahead of Nova Scotia at -2.5 per cent. Prior to the pandemic, PEI was the only jurisdiction in the country to have continuous GDP growth since 2007.

Source: Statistics Canada Releases 2020 GDP Data: Department of Finance, Government of Prince Edward Island. Accessed November 18, 2021. Full report available online at: <https://www.princeedwardisland.ca/en/information/finance/gross-domestic-product-gdp-by-income-and-expenditure>

The pandemic had an effect on economies the world over making GDP a problematic metric to review for 2020 (the most recent year for data). But the Commission notes that prior to 2020, PEI had the strongest GDP growth in the country; and in 2020, PEI had the smallest reduction in GDP in the face of the pandemic.

PEI public sector negotiated salary increases

The Commission reviewed salaries in the public sector collective agreements and observed that each received wage adjustments every year in the past ten-year period.

Written submissions to the Commission

The Commission invited written submissions from the public on the topic of MLA remuneration. Advertisements were placed in local newspapers and notice was posted on the Legislative Assembly's website and its social media channels. The Commission received 13 submissions related to remunerations, summarized as follows:

- is adequate at its current level
- is excessive at its current level
- should be on par with other jurisdictions
- should be increased as current levels may be a barrier to some candidates
- adjustments should be linked to an Island-specific metric, such as median income
- should be increased to mitigate the current high inflation rates and to keep up with annual inflation.

Some of the submissions received by the Commission provided additional feedback on matters of severance pay and on the process of providing input to the Commission. The Commission will take this additional feedback into consideration and gratefully acknowledges and appreciates everyone who submitted their views.

Consideration of MLA indemnity

Remuneration is provided to MLAs according to their responsibilities in the Legislative Assembly. An indemnity is received by all MLAs, and positions of additional responsibility receive an additional salary. The role of an MLA is unique within society as part of our democratic system of government. There is no simple way to categorize the duties of an elected public servant whom the electorate can remove from office, if desired, at the next election. Between jurisdictions there are differences in how that role is exercised according to the rules that govern each legislature, and according to regional differences in population size, resources, and culture. However, fundamental similarities exist in that every MLA is elected to serve the interests of their constituents, both in the Legislative Assembly and in the public life of the riding, including participating in debates on the disposition of public money and the deliberation of legislation. With these core responsibilities in mind, the Commission conducted a survey of indemnities in other Canadian jurisdictions.

Current PEI MLA indemnity

Currently, the indemnity provided to all MLAs is $74,394. In addition to the data above, the Commission reviewed the indemnities paid to other provincial and territorial legislative representatives:

Jurisdiction	Indemnity ($) as of April 1, 2021
Prince Edward Island	74,394
Alberta	120,936
British Columbia	111,912
Manitoba	97,753
New Brunswick	85,000
Newfoundland	95,357
Northwest Territories®	110,761
Nova Scotia	89,235
Nunavut*®	103,323
Ontario	116,500
Quebec*	95,704
Saskatchewan	100,668
Yukon*	82,130

*These jurisdictions provide Members with an additional taxable allowance (not included in the indemnity amount in this table.)

®These jurisdictions provide Members with an additional non-taxable allowance (not included in the indemnity amount in this table).

Similarly, to gain regional perspective with more comparable regional resources, culture, and population, the Commission compared MLA indemnities in the Atlantic provinces.

	PEI	NL	NS	NB	Atlantic Canada Average (excl. PEI)
Indemnity:	$74,394	$95,357	$89,235	$85,000	$89,864
PEI indemnity as a % of :		78%	83%	88%	83%
$ difference:		$20,963	$14,841	$10,606	$15,470

The Commission also compared PEI MLA indemnities to the Canadian average. The PEI MLA indemnity is 74% of the Canadian average.

The Commission recognizes that whether the national or regional scale is used, PEI MLAs continue to be the lowest paid legislators. This is despite the same core responsibilities as provincial legislators in other jurisdictions.

DECISION 1

Upon analyzing the Consumer Price Index, Gross Domestic Product, salary adjustments for PEI public service sectors, indemnities in other jurisdictions, historical data, and written submissions from the public, the Commission adjusts the indemnity for the role of Member of the Legislative Assembly by 2.75%, effective January 1, 2022.

Consideration of Additional Salaries

Parliamentary roles with additional duties and responsibilities are provided an additional salary which is added to the MLA indemnity. The following chart summarizes the current additional salaries paid for specific roles in the Legislative Assembly of Prince Edward Island:

Position	Salary* ($)	Indemnity ($)	Total ($)
Premier	80,797		155,191

As the data illustrates, remuneration provided in PEI for each of the above-stated positions of additional responsibility is lower than the Atlantic Canadian average.

DECISION 2

Upon analyzing the Consumer Price Index, Gross Domestic Product, salary adjustments for PEI public service sectors, additional salaries in other jurisdictions, historical data, and written submissions from the public, the Commission adjusts the salaries for roles of additional responsibility identified in the tables above by 2.75%, effective January 1, 2022.

IV. Allowances and Benefits

Transition Allowance

In 2020, the Commission accepted the transfer of responsibility for determining the severance allowance received by MLAs upon ceasing to be an elected member. The Commission adopted the previous severance calculation to maintain the benefit until the Commission's further review in 2021.

During 2021, the Commission studied the severance allowance. Over the past several months the Commission consulted best practices in the public and private sectors and surveyed legislatures in other Canadian jurisdictions to gather information on current severance policies.

DECISION 3

Based on the Commission's research, the following Transition Allowance Policy for Members of the Legislative Assembly replaces the current Severance Allowance, effective for Members elected after December 1, 2021:

The Transition Allowance is provided to Members of the Legislative Assembly who meet certain conditions when they leave their public role in the Legislative Assembly of Prince Edward Island. The work of a Member of the Legislative Assembly is not considered insurable employment by the Canada Revenue Agency, meaning Members are not allowed to contribute to nor receive from the federal Employment Insurance Program. Neither are Members eligible for employer-sponsored long-term disability insurance. The Transition Allowance is provided to help Members bridge the employment gap following the end of their time in public office.

Definitions

The following terms are defined as follows for use within this policy:

public sector: includes any ministry, crown corporation, agency, board, commission, or other body, whether incorporated or unincorporated, where the employment is a full-time paid position of the government career average salary: calculated over the period of continuous service from the time a Member is first elected to the time they cease to be a Member and includes indemnity and additional salaries. If the Member ceases to be a Member and is re-elected to office, the period of continuous service used for the career average salary in the Transition Allowance calculation begins from the date of the re-election.

service year(s): includes whole years in office, with partial years in office pro-rated for the purpose of determining the Transition Allowance period and allowance. If the Member ceases to be a Member and is re-elected to office, the period of continuous service used for the service year(s) in calculating the Transition Allowance period and allowance begins from the date of the re-election.

Eligibility

Every duly elected Member of the Legislative Assembly is eligible for the Transition Allowance when they cease to be a Member for any reason except the following:

- if, during the transition period, a Member is
 - employed in the federal or provincial public sector,
 - appointed as a judge, senator, Lieutenant Governor or Governor General,
 - elected as a Member of Parliament,
 - re-elected to the Legislative Assembly, or
 - employed by an Office of the Legislative Assembly,the Transition Allowance ceases.
- if removed permanently from service according to applicable legislation, or by the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, the Member is not eligible for a Transition Allowance.

Transition Period

The transition period is determined by the number of service years, where one month of allowance (as calculated below) is paid for each service year, up to a maximum of twelve months.

Calculation

An eligible Member is entitled to a Transition Allowance equal to:

[one month of the individual's career average salary] X [total number of service years] to a maximum of the MLA indemnity in force at the time the MLA ceases to be an MLA. The MLA indemnity excludes all additional salaries and allowances.

Payment

The Transition Allowance is paid biweekly. The biweekly payment amounts are equal to the total Transition Allowance, as calculated above, divided by the number of pay periods in the transition period.

Service Maximum

In no case shall a Member receive a Transition Allowance and/or Severance Allowance that exceeds the gross MLA base salary in force at the time the MLA ceases to be an MLA.

In the event that a Member ceases to be a Member (subject to eligibility conditions above) and receives a Transition Allowance and/or Severance Allowance, and the Member is re-elected, the total Transition Allowance and/or Severance Allowance they receive in their lifetime will be no more than the indemnity in force at the time they cease to be an MLA.

Upon Death

Should a Member die while serving as an elected representative in the Legislative Assembly, the Transition Allowance is paid as a lump sum to their personal representative.

Other allowances and benefits

The Commission continues any other allowances and benefits unchanged from the previous report. The Commission intends to study the full range of other allowances and benefits provided for MLAs from all offices and report its findings in 2022.

V. Pension Plan

For the past several years the Commission has been working on modernizing the MLA Pension Plan to ensure the long-term stability of the benefit and to improve the efficiency of administration without significantly altering the benefit.

In 2020 the Indemnities and Allowances Commission recommended that the Province wind-up the basic portion of the MLA Pension Plan and transfer its assets and liabilities to the much larger Public Sector Pension Plan (PSPP) to gain access to the PSPP's modern pension administration systems and economies of scale, thereby reducing future administration costs to the Province.

The Province has acted on this recommendation and the Pension Plan Transfer Act was passed in the fall 2021 sitting of the Legislative Assembly and is effective December 26, 2021.

DECISION 4

The Commission adopted changes to the Supplemental Pension Plan Text to align with the PSPP rules. The Commission adopts the attached amended Supplementary Pension Plan for Members of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Prince Edward Island (Appendix A) as the supplementary pension benefit effective December 26, 2021.

VI. Conclusion

The Commission shall determine any dispute, difference or question arising with respect to any remuneration described in this report. Such decisions of the Commission are final and binding.

The Commissioners respectfully acknowledge Honourable Colin LaVie, Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, for the trust he has shown in appointing them to serve on this Commission.
